Acceptance Test Procedures

The supplier shall prepare separate detailed test procedures, encompassing tests required for acceptance. Each item of hardware, or part thereof, which require acceptance testing, shall be covered by an acceptance test procedure. Final acceptance test procedures require Alliant Techsystems/ABL approval prior to the delivery of the first unit of hardware. Subsequent changes are subject to Alliant Techsystems/ABL approval prior to incorporation. Where these tests are performed utilizing equipment controlled by computer software or firmware associated with, or affecting, those tests require alliant Techsystems/ABL approval at the same time (s) as the remainder of the acceptance test procedure.
