

CENTURY FASTENERS CORP.™

February 20, 2025

Dear Customers,

We are aware of the fire that occurred at the SPS Technologies facility in Jenkintown, PA. Fortunately, it has been reported that all employees are accounted for, with no major injuries. Our thoughts are with the SPS Technologies team and their families during this challenging time.

At this moment, the full impact on the supply chain remains uncertain. However, we take this situation very seriously and are proactively working with our customers to assess and address any direct impacts to their operations. Given the significance of SPS Technologies to the aerospace industry, our team has already activated our business continuity plans to mitigate disruptions as much as possible. We have begun proactively reaching out to customers who are affected by this situation.

We will continue to provide updates as more information becomes available. If you have any immediate concerns, please do not hesitate to reach out to your account representative or contact us at sales@centuryfasteners.com

Sincerely,

Century Fasteners Corp. Management

To our Customers,

We are saddened to inform you that a major fire broke out at our manufacturing plant in Jenkintown, Pennsylvania on February 17, 2025. Thankfully everyone is safe and well, but the plant was significantly damaged by the fire. We are still working to assess the damage, but the plant is not expected to be operational for some time.

With reference to all purchase order(s) and sales contract(s) (together, the "Contract") between SPS Technologies, LLC, Jenkintown facility ("SPS") and your company that pertain to the SPS facility in Jenkintown, Pennsylvania, we regret to advise you that SPS is hereby formally declaring force majeure under the terms and conditions of the Contract and applicable law, due to this significant fire. This declaration will affect and excuse all outstanding obligations of SPS under the Contract that pertain to the SPS Jenkintown facility and will continue until further notice.

Please be assured that the SPS Jenkintown facility is working diligently to assess the situation. We will keep you informed of any significant developments and coordinate any future deliveries.

In the meantime, we intend to shift production to other PCC Fasteners operations to the greatest extent possible. We appreciate your patience as we analyze our capability to produce your products at alternate sites. We will be in touch to discuss options and alternatives.

We value your business, and we truly appreciate your understanding. We will keep you updated as we know more. Please do not hesitate to reach out to your normal Jenkintown contacts if you have any questions or require further information.

Best regards,
